

James Trowsdale, Strategic Lead for Culture, North East Lincolnshire Council

James is Strategic Lead for Culture at North East Lincolnshire Council overseeing the delivery of Grimsby Creates (Cultural Development Fund) and numerous heritage initiatives enabling significant growth of creative activity in North East Lincolnshire. He has a wealth of experience building creative partnerships in the Humber area and beyond, previously working for both Hull and Coventry Cities of Culture securing multi-million pound support for transformative creative place making.

Outside of work James is a Grimsby Town fan, school governor at Barton St Peters school and a trustee of the St Hugh's Foundation for the Arts.

